Berlin, Germany — September 11, 2025 — Arzolath, an independent creator of software and games, today announced that its flagship product VTuber Plus has surpassed 12,000 total sales across Steam and itch.io, with more than 30,000 downloads and 150+ daily active users worldwide.

VTuber Plus is an interactive application that enhances live streaming by allowing viewers to engage with VTubers in real time through animations, props, sound effects, and rewards. Since its launch, it has become a popular tool among VTubers and streamers who want to bring their audience closer into the show.

“We’re blown away by the support from the VTuber community,” said Arzolath, Creator of VTuber Plus. “Seeing over 150 streamers use VTuber Plus every single day shows us we’re building something that truly matters to creators and their fans.”

VTuber Plus continues to grow with regular updates, feature expansions, and strong community feedback. Looking ahead, Arzolath plans to introduce even more interactive options for streamers, further strengthening the bond between creators and their audiences.
